If a child is living with you and not with their parent, the child has the right to attend school where you live if certain conditions are met. If the child is in foster care, they have the additional right to immediate enrollment in school without submitting any enrollment documents.

Special Considerations

During the pandemic, nearly all districts began offering “online enrollment,” and many districts continue to use this option to enroll students in school. You may check your school district’s website to see if this is an option for enrollment of a child living with a non-parent.

In addition, a law called Act 1 of 2022 (24 P.S. § 13-1331.1) applies to students who are experiencing homelessness, in foster care, or involved in the juvenile justice system who changed schools at least once during a single school year. Under Act 1, school entities are required to ensure that, beginning with the 2021-2022 school year, eligible students are able to access a diploma at their current school entity, secure a diploma from their prior school entity, or obtain a Keystone diploma. Eligible students may request a credit assessment, credit waiver, and development of a graduation plan to determine eligibility to receive a diploma.

The law also provides alternative and expanded pathways to support students in these situations who seek to participate in extracurricular activities. To learn more, see ELC’s fact sheet on Act 1.

HOW DO I ENROLL A CHILD IF I HAVE LEGAL CUSTODY?

1) Consult your school district or charter school website for information regarding “registration” or “enrollment.” In some cases, there may be an online enrollment option, and you can complete forms and provide supporting documentation through a portal. Check with your school to see if this is an option for a child living with a non-parent.

2) Go to the school or central registration office in the school district where you live.

3) Bring with you:
   a. Documents that show that you live in the school district (“residency documents”);
   b. The court order or other document (e.g., guardianship, adoption, or will) that gives you custody;
   c. Documents that show the child’s age (this does not need to be a birth certificate);
   d. Documents that show the child has been immunized. If you do not have a record of the child’s shots, tell the school district to call the former school or a doctor who has the child’s records.

4) Fill out a sworn statement (“Parent Registration” or Act 26 form) about the child’s discipline history, which the school district will give to you. Even though the school may ask for the child’s entire discipline history, it is okay if you do not know it. You only need to say whether the child is currently expelled for possessing a weapon. You must also share whether the child has ever been expelled based on a conviction or adjudication of delinquency, occurring on or after Jan. 3, 2022, for a sexual assault offense committed upon another student in the same school where they are seeking to enroll.

5) Ask the school secretary to request the child’s education records from their former school. The child’s former school must send the records to the new school within 10 business days.

If you do not speak English as your primary language and you have a limited ability to read, speak, write, or understand English, you have the right to receive interpretation and translation services provided by the school.

NOTE: If you are seeking to enroll a child who is in foster care or experiencing homelessness, these children are entitled to immediate enrollment even if they do not have required enrollment documents. For a child in foster care, an agency may provide its request on letterhead.

HOW DO I ENROLL A CHILD IF I DO NOT HAVE LEGAL CUSTODY?

You are not required to have legal custody to enroll a child who is living with you in school. In addition to the steps above, you will need to give the school district a completed copy of the 1302 Form, attached at the end of this fact sheet. You must sign this document in front of a notary, which the school district can help you do. Remember, this is a sworn statement, so you must fill out the form truthfully. For the student to enroll in the district where you live, the form must state that:

1) The child lives with you all year, including weekends and summer,
2) You will make sure that the child attends school and will be responsible for other school requirements, AND
3) You are supporting the child as if they were your child, without receiving payments from the child’s parents. You can receive SSI, TANF, pre-adoptive or adoptive support, support from parents in the military, health insurance, or child support payments and still be supporting the child on your own.

The district can ask you for proof that the statements on the form are true, though they should be flexible and consider what information you are able to give them.

You can prove you are a resident by providing one or more of these documents where you are listed at an address in the school district:

1) Utility bill
2) Lease
3) Driver’s license
4) Car registration
5) Tax bill
6) Credit card bill
7) Form that shows you are enrolled in a government program.

You can prove you support the child as your own with:

1) Receipts for food, clothes, or medical bills for the child
2) Papers that show you took the child as a dependent on your taxes
3) Papers that show that the child is covered by your health insurance.
AFTER I COMPLETE THESE STEPS, HOW SOON MUST THE DISTRICT ENROLL THE CHILD?

The law says that the child should be enrolled the next day and must be enrolled within five business days of the school receiving all enrollment documents. If the child has not been notified that they can start attending school within five business days, call the district’s registration office and ask them why the child has not been enrolled.

If the school district does not allow the child to start after five business days, file a complaint with the Pennsylvania Department of Education. See Education Law Center’s fact sheet on the Enrollment Complaint Process. You can also call the Department at 717-787-4860 or 717-783-6746.

WHAT ELSE DO I NEED TO KNOW BEFORE THE CHILD STARTS SCHOOL?

We recommend talking to an administrator or counselor at the new school about:

- The child’s special education needs. This is particularly important for students with disabilities who plan to graduate this year or who turned 21 and were enrolled in school for the 2022-2023 school year and are remaining in school for an additional year. If the child has a disability, make sure the school has a copy of the IEP. The school must follow the old IEP until you agree on a new IEP with the new school. Request an IEP team meeting with the new school as soon as possible. The school cannot delay the child’s start of school because they are waiting to receive the IEP.

- The child’s need for accommodations in school. Share any Section 504 Accommodations Plan your child may have for a chronic illness or other disability.

- The credits required for graduation and credits transferred from the child’s previous school. Make sure the school gives the child credit for all partial and full credits earned and courses the student has already taken.

- Point of Contact: Many schools have mentorship programs. In addition, students in grades K-12 who are experiencing homelessness, in foster care, or involved in the juvenile justice system and have changed schools at least once during a single school year are entitled to receive a Point of Contact under Act 1 of 2022 (see box on p. 1). Talk to your school if you think a child may be eligible. This law ensures that students can fully participate in school—including engaging in school-sponsored extracurricular activities; waiver of fines and fees, and, for high school students, expanded pathways to graduate on time.

- Language instruction program. If the child is an English learner and is not proficient in speaking, reading, understanding, and writing English, talk to the school about the child’s needs, prior language instruction, and the language instruction program at the new school.

- Options for tutoring, vocational classes, and extracurricular activities, even if the child is starting school midway through the school year. This can be very important for the child to connect to a new school.
CAN A SCHOOL DISTRICT ASK YOU ABOUT WHY THE CHILD IS LIVING WITH YOU?

No. You do not have to answer questions about the child’s family situation, why the child is living with you, or why the child is not living with their parents.

DO YOU NEED LEGAL CUSTODY FROM A COURT TO ENROLL THE CHILD IN SCHOOL?

No. If you have a custody order, the school district must admit the child to school. If you do not have a custody order, you can still enroll the child using the 1302 Form and the child has the same legal right to attend school. If you use a 1302 Form, the school cannot require you to show that you have a custody order.

CAN MY SCHOOL REQUIRE AN AFFIDAVIT FROM A BIOLOGICAL PARENT OR THAT THE CHILD’S PARENT ENROLL THE CHILD IN SCHOOL?

No. These are not requirements under the law.⁷

CAN THE SCHOOL DISTRICT ASK YOU TO PROVE WHERE YOU LIVE?

Yes, but the school district should let you prove where you live in a way that is easiest for you. The Pennsylvania Department of Education instructs districts to accept any of the following that show you live at an address within the school district: gas, electric, or phone bills; lease for an apartment in the school district; government papers; car registration; or a paper signed by you in front of a notary that says where you and the child live (“affidavit”).⁸

CAN THE SCHOOL DISTRICT ASK YOU TO PROVE THE CHILD’S AGE?

Yes, but they can only require that you bring in one of the following: birth certificate, passport, baptism certificate, paper from a parent or relative signed in front of a notary, or records from an old school. Any of these will work — the school cannot require a copy of the birth certificate.

CAN THE SCHOOL DISTRICT DENY ENROLLMENT BECAUSE THE CHILD WAS DISCIPLINED BY THE FORMER SCHOOL?

No. The new school district cannot “honor” the previous school district’s discipline and deny or delay a child’s enrollment based on information in the discipline records. One exception is if the child is currently expelled for possessing a weapon — then the new school district must still enroll the student but can place the child in an alternative program. Another exception is if the child transfers to a new school during or after an expulsion based on a conviction or adjudication of delinquency for sexual assault — in which case, the new school district must enroll the student but may place the student in an alternative education program.⁹

WHAT CAN’T THE SCHOOL DISTRICT ASK YOU TO PROVIDE?

A school district can never ask for your Social Security number or card or the child’s Social Security number or card, immigration papers or status, doctor’s or dentist’s records (including mental health evaluations), or photo ID.¹⁰
IF A CHILD HAS A GRADUATION EQUIVALENCY DIPLOMA (GED), CAN THE CHILD STILL ENROLL IN SCHOOL AND WORK TOWARDS A HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA?

Yes. A child has the right to go to school in Pennsylvania until the end of the school term when they turn 21 or until they graduate with a regular high school diploma (whichever comes first), even if they already have a GED.\footnote{Basic Education Circular, Enrollment of Students - 24 P.S. §13-1301 - §13-1306, available at: \url{https://www.education.pa.gov/Policy-Funding/BECS/Purdons/Pages/EnrollmentStudents.aspx} (July 1, 2022); Fact Sheet: Information on the Rights of All Children to Enroll in School, Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Dep't of Justice and Office of Civil Rights of the U.S. Dep't of Ed, available at: \url{https://www.justice.gov/sites/default/files/crt/legacy/2014/05/08/plylerfact.pdf}.} This is true for all students, not only students with disabilities.
